PLANE PLUNGES CRUSHING TEN

Fifty Others Hurt, Some Fatally, and Sixteen Cars Destroyed

TWO PILOTS SAVED

Explosion and Fire Follow Crash—All The Victims Were Spectators—2000 Pounds of Dynamite Near.

Moundsville, W. Va., July 11.—Ten persons were killed and 50 injured—19 seriously—at Langlin Field here this yesterday when a Martin bombing plane crashed into a group of automobiles parked on the grounds. An explosion followed, setting fire to the machines.

The dead were all spectators. Lieut. C. R. McIve, pilot, and Lieut. T. H. Dunton, assistant pilot, were rescued by Carl Miller, coach of Bethany College.

The known dead are:

Mrs. George Long, aged 32, Moundsville.

Frederick Edge 45, Woodland, W. Va.

Carl Pettitt, 16 Moundsville.

Ralph Hartsell, 13, Moundsville.

Charles Hartsell, 50 father of the Hartsell boy.

Mrs. A. Stevens, 28, Moundsville.

Walter Montgomery, 40 Bellaire, Ohio.

Three unidentified charred bodies, one of which is believed to be that of the missing machinist of the wrecked plane.

Most of the injured were taken to the Glendale Hospital, where it was reported five were in a serious condition. A physician's office nearby also was used as an emergency hospital, where it was reported two had died.

The known dead were of Moundsville, with the exception of Edge, whose home was at Rount Bottom, W. Va.

Lieutenants McIve and Dunton were taking off in the government plane from Langlin Field, starting from the south side of the field. They had risen about 30 feet, according to the reports when the plane swung sharply to the left and seemed about to hit a hanger. An apparent effort was made, it was said, to throw the plane into the nivert, but it was flying too low and crashed into a line of automobiles lined along the river bank.

Sixteen automobiles were burned and the dead, in most instances, were trapped in the machines.

Sergt. Ray Dulley, on duty at the field, assisted Coach Miller, a former army aviator in extricating McIve and Dunton from the airplane.

An engine of the Wheeling fire department was wrecked when attempting to reach the scene of the disaster.

The pilots arrived at Moundsville Saturday afternoon with the bomber from the Martin factories at Cleveland and were leaving Langlin Field here for Langley Field, where the plane was to be put into service.

Nearly a score of persons were either burned or injured so severely as to require surgical attention. Of the inured at the Glendale Hospital, the following were reported as the most serious cases:

Stanley Pelrick, aged 8, Moundsville, skull fractured; Leonard Darrah, 50, Moundsville, skul fractured; Mrs. George Mentz, Bellaire, Ohio, hurt internally and shoulder fractured. Many other residents of Moundsville ame also at the hospital being treated for injuries and burns, including Mrs. Mary Stevens and her daughter Alice, who were reported at first as being among the dead.

J. M. McBroom and Mrs. Marion Keyser, of Moundsville, were knocked clear of blazing machines by the propeller of the bomber, and although severely bruised and shaken, were not seriously injured.

Lieutenants McIve and Dunton, and Sergeant James Long, in charge of the field, declined to make any comment as to the cause of the accident. Lieutenant Dunton suffered slight burns about the face and hands but neither he nor his companion were hurt seriously. Both are regularly attached to Langlin Field.

Sixteen automobiles were crushed into a mass and set afire, many of them filled with people.

Both tanks of the aircraft exploded, hurling the burning fuel over the cars and spectators for several yards around. Due to the fact that many of the less severely burned and injured were rushed to their family physicians for treatment, a complete list of the burned and injured cannot be obtained until a complete check is taken in cases in the hands of every physician in the city.

Forty feet from where the wrecked plane stopped and directly in its path is a temporary structure used to store dynamite by a contractor who is sinking a new coal-mine shaft. The shed contained 2,000 pounds of dynamite, and had the plane crashed into the shed it is believed the loss of life would have been greater.

M. P. Church Notes

The Sunday School of the Methodist Protestant Church continues to have good attendance during this hot weather. We only decreased six last Sunday. The contest between the boys and girls is causing considerable interest between these two sides. The girls with a Hudson car are leading the boys by 20 miles.

The pastor, Rev. Robert Browne, preached upon "The Faithful Prince" at the morning service. He pictured the faithfulness of old Abraham to Almighty God and the wonderful blessing that God bestowed upon him comparing the hot weather here with the burning sands of the African desert, the destruction of Sodden and Gomorrow.

At the evening service the pastor spoke upon the "Good Stenographer," Paul's secretary who wrote Poul's sermons and recorded all of Romans. This secretary was a christian man and has his name recorded in the book of life.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the officers and Teachers' Association of the Sunday School will meet in its regular monthly meeting.

IRISH PARLEY DATE LEFT TO DE VALERA

Lloyd George Willing to Meet De Valera Any Day This Week

FAVORABLE ASPECTS

Ulster Minister Says Conference Must Keep Hands Off Orangemen—Elements Hostile to Peace

London, July 11.—The British Prime Minister, Mr. Lloyd George, and the Irish Republican leader, Eamonn de Valera, probably will meet some day this week to discuss a basis for a general conference on an Irish settlement.

Mr. Lloyd George has asked Mr. colleagues when you wish to bring de Valera to name the day, and has added a further invitation to "any colleagues whom you wish to bring with you." His telegram reads:

"I have received your letter of acceptance and shall be happy to see you and any colleagues when you wish to bring with you at Downing street any day this week. Please wire the date of your arrival in London."

Ireland's struggle for freedom has been a long history of baffled hopes; otherwise the present situation would be full of promise for a final peaceful settlement. But while past history does not afford food for over confidence—a point emphasized in the way of warning by Mr. de Valera himself in a manifesto to the Irish people—there are some aspects which differ entirely from any previous peace effort.

First. The whole British nation now is practically willing to grant Ireland dominion status, if Ireland is willing to drop the demand for a republic.

Second. The Dominion premiers now in London are ready to support, according to all indications, Ireland's claim for dominion states with fiscal autonomy and a voice in foreign affairs, the latter being an important aspiration of the dominions themselves. Such help from the outside as that afforded by a statesman of the calibre of General Smuts, the South African Premier, who admittedly has much influence over the Government policy, is an asset which Ierland has never before enjoyed.

Third. This is the first time that Mr. Lloyd George in any peace negotiations has imposed no conditions whatever.

Finally, a truce has been arranged for an indefinte period. No date has been fixed or hint of any notice required to denounce it. The whole surrounding circumstances in this latest peace effort would seem to prove that both sides are deeply in earnest in desiring success.

On the other side of the picture is the attitude of the extremists among both Sinn Feiners and Orangmen, and doubt are expressed as to how far they can be controlled by the leaders. There is also what has up to the present been the irreconcilable attitude of Mr. de Valera and his colleagues against the partition of Ireland and the apparently equal determination in Ulster that the present status of teh six counties under the Home Rule act shall not be disturbed.

Ulster is smarting under the serious trade boycott exercised by Southern Ireland, but hopes are still high that this and other difficulties will be smoothed out once the conference is in being.

Belfast, July 11.—The Lloyd George De Valera conference must maintain a policy of "hands off" in regard to the Orangmen, declared John Gordon, of the Ulster ministry, in a speech at Largen, county Antrim, today.

Mr. Lloyd George might be prepared to enter into conferences with De Valera to settle affairs in Ireland, said Mr. Gordon, but Orangemen had settled the affairs of Ulster, and to Messrs. Lloyd George and De Valera they said "hands off."

American Legion

Three Speakers Make Addresses at Meeting Saturday Night

Addresses in the state wide drive of the American Legion were made by three speakers Saturday night in the opera house at a meeting held under the auspices of Alexandria Post No. 24, American Legion. John T. Worthington, commander of the local post, presided and introduced the speakers. Owing to the exceedingly hot weather the meeting was attended by only a small audience.

The first speaker was Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, of this city, president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion of the State. She told of the splendid work being done by the legion and also gave some account of the activities of the woman's auxiliary.

Dan S. Hollenga, Fayettesville, N. C., national committeeman of the organization, criticized the treatment that is given the tubercular ex-service men and others who are suffering from the effects of the war.

Maj. Robert T. Barton, of Winchester, Va., state commander, told of the work being done by the legion in the state.

During the course of the addresses punch was served by several women members of the Woman's Auxiliary to the American Legion.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Norfolk—That Hampton Roads is building its record as one of the ranking shipping centers of the world is shown by figures which place the total entrances and clearances of vessels for the month of June at eight hundred. Ships flying fifteen flags representing nations in remote parts of the world have passed in and out of the Virginia Capes at the rate of 26 a day or more than one an hour. Two hundred and twenty-seven cargoes of coal left Hampton Roads in June. In the Hampton Roads district total entrances and clearances of American steamers was 310 and that of British ships 336. American ships clearing exceeded the British by one, the number being British 170; American 171.

The tobacco crop this year promises to be the smallest since that of 1911, today's forecast of the department of agriculture placing this year's production at 932,000,000 pounds, which is more than one-third less than last year's record crop. The condition of the crop of July 1, which was, 71.9 per cent of a normal, was lower than it has been on that date in more than 21 years. It is 10.2 points below the ten year average condition on July 1 and 12.4 points below last year's July 1 average. An average acre yield of 697.3 pounds is forecast, almost 100 pounds less per acre than was harvested last year.

Luray—With no apples in this county, the potato crop about half an average yield, the wheat crop giving a small yield, and the hay crop a like one, the outlook for the coming winter is anything but promising to those who will be compelled to buy everything that they have to eat.

DISARMAMENT PLAN GIVEN BY HARDING

Conference in Washington Suggested to Four Powers

ANGLO-JAP ALLIANCE

China Also Asked to Take Part in This Phase—State Department's Announcement

Washington, July 11.—President Harding has taken his first step toward disarmament and world-peace in proposing to the Allied powers a conference in Washington on limitation of armaments. He also has suggested to the interested nations that there be at the same time a discussion of Pacific and Far Eastern problems with a view to reaching a common understanding with respect to principles and policies in the Far East.

The State Department announced last night that the President has approached informally but definitely, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan if, as is confidently expected, the replies are favorable, the President will move swiftly to call in a formal way a conference in Washington that will be the most important international gathering since the Peace Conference at Paris.

The announcement was made by the State Department, "by direction of the President," in the following statement:

"The President, in view of the far-reaching importance of the question of limitation of armament, has approached with informal but definite inquiries the group of powers heretofore known as the principal Allied and Associated Powers, that is Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, to ascertain whether it would be agreeable to them to take part in a conference on this subject, to be held in Washington at a time to be mutually agreed upon. If the proposal is found to be acceptable, formal invitations for such a conference will be issued.

"It is manifest that the question of limitation of armament has a close relation to Pacific and Far Eastern problems and the President has suggested that the powers especially interested in the problems should undertake in connection with these problems the consideration of all matters bearing upon their solution with a view of reaching a common understanding with respect to principles and policies in the Far East. This has been communicated to the powers concerned, and China has also been invited to take part in the discussion relating to Far Eastern problems.

The reference in the State Department's announcement to Pacific and Far East problems is taken to mean that the questions involved in renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance will be considered and an attempt made to formulate a broad policy that will be agreeable not only to the interests of Great Britain and Japan, but will also satisfy the balance of the great nations directly or indirectly affected by the complex situation in the far East. China is to participate in this phase of the conference.

It is believed here that tonight's announcement from the Administration accounts for the element of mystery that has attended lately the deliberations of the British Imperial Conference on the Anglo-Japanese alliance, and also explains the statement made in Parliament a few days ago by Lloyd George in which he indicated that he would make a statement in the House of Commons Monday, if desired information came from the United States. Through out the Imperial Conference there has been manifest a decided purpose to maintain friendship with the United States in dealing with renewal of the pact with Japan.

By taking this action the President foretalked the immediate prospective action of Congress on the question of reduction of armament. The Naval Appropriation bill, which has been approved finally by Congress today, contains the Borah amendment requesting the President to negotiate with England and Japan an agreement on a naval holiday.

Use New Organ

Played at Both Services at Christ Church Yesterday

The new organ recently installed in Christ Episcopal Church was used for the first time yesterday. The organ was played at both services yesterday and its excellent tone was greatly admired by all who heard it played. It is the gift of the Carnegie foundation. At the morning service the rector, Rev. Dr. W. J. Mouton preached and the choir of Christ Church sang.

The evening services were largely attended and the service was intoned by Rev. Edward S. Dunbar, assistant rector of St. John's Church, Washington, and the full choral service was sung was the choir of St. John's Church, Washington. Dr. James Dick Cassen, organist of St. John's Church presided at the organ.

This is the fourth organ to be installed in this historical edifice. For many years after it was erected Christ Church had no organ. The new organ cost $10,000 and is three time as large as the organ just removed. It contains approximately 1900 pipes.

Candidates For Office Fail to Respond To Invitation of Frank Stuart

Frank Stuart, candidate for civil and police justice of the city, subject to the decision of the democratic primary which will be held August 2, issued an invitation recently for the candidates seeking office to meet him at his office Saturday night at 8:15 o'clock to arrange for a mass meeting. The idea was to have all of the candidates appear at the mass meeting and discuss the campaign issues before the voters.

The candidates for office in Alexandria evidently are not very much interested in speech making these hot days not are they interested in discussing issues for not a single candidate made his appearance, and Mr. Stuart left his office shortly after the appointed hour thoroughly satisfied that the candidates are not worrying about any issues that may be involved in the campaign.

SURGEON TAKES FIVE FULL SIZED SPOONS FROM HER STOMACH

Hopkinsville, Ky., July 11.—Five full sized teaspoons were taken from the stomach of Mrs. Rosie Tucker Cowan, of Todd county, near Kirkmansville, Ky., when she was operated on here today. An X-ray photograph previously made showed the spoons very plainly.

Mrs. Cowan stood the operation well. Just when or how she swallowed the spoons is not known. Her mind became affected several months ago and she was sent to the Western State Hospital for treatment. She often threatened to swallow spoons, it said that she had swallowed them, but no laceration of her throat was visible.

The spoons were of cheap material and the acid of her stomach had affected some of them.

Professor Einstein!

The great discoverer of the doctrine of relativity—which by the way, was a familiar to Aristotle as the Greek alphabet—Professor Albert Einstein—has spent a few brief weeks in this country, has gotten safely back to Berlin—and proceeds to tuck away the United States and its hundred million inhabitants in the corner of a little category, label it, and put it among his archives to be remembered or forgotten, as the case may be.

The good professor seems just a little ungrateful. He speaks of the kind and generous words with which he was greeted, and the courtesy with which he was treated, as 'an exaggerated enthusiasm that was comic!' He slurs the American men; he sneers at the American women; he slanders American scientists; he claims that our big cities are "suffering from terrible poverty—poverty of intellectual things."

The trouble with Einstein is that in his hurried trip he saw just a minute fragment of the real America. That he met fools—and many of them—is probable, since they are among the first that rush to greet any foreigner whose name is in the public prints—whether notorious, celebrated, or merely famous. These fools are generally gushers, with neither brains nor education. They have money, but that is all. As a rule they are not admitted to the decent society of any of the ordinary towns or cities in this country in which they happen to live.

Most foreigners come over here and meet no other class. Without proper letters of introduction, American society, that is, dignified, self-respecting society, does not throw open its doors to any wayfarer because he happens to be a head-liner in the papers and come from Europe. The class met by Einstein was evidently of the newly-rich, lion-hunting variety; because he admits he did meet a few decent people.

We are glad the professor is safely back in Berlin, where he can meet and mingle with his own kind. Let him long continue to drink his post-war German beer, smoke his atrocious German tobacco, and befoozle the brains of the foolish with theories of the Absolute and the Relative.

BECOMES ILL ON MOONSHINE; SUES ALLEGED BOOTLEGGER

Memphis, Tenn., July 11.—A suit for damages filed late yesterday by L. C. Stubblefield, against Harry Langley, in the Circuit Court here, is said by court officials to establish a new record for "freak" litigation. In his petition Stubblefield alleges that he bought a quantity of whisky of the variety known as "white mule white lightning, or moonshine," After drinking the whisky the petition states, he became ill.

Later he says he bought more whisky from the defendant with similar results. The plaintiff says that he was compelled to go to a hospital, and is permanently injured as the result of drinking the liquor. He alleges in his petition that Langley made the whisky in his home, and should have known that "it contained a large percentage of concentrated lye and spirits of nitre." Therefore he asks for damages to the amount of $15,000.

"It was not for nothing that BONAPARTE has so often declared that he loves America. He has reason good. He has received from America not less than 40 millions of dollars towards carrying on his war; what by the avails of the purchase of Louisiana, and what with the booty obtained by plundering our commerce, from which he took 17 millions at one squeeze. Which of his allies has contributed to his cause, in cash amount, so abundantly, in proportion to its means, as America his darling? or who of his friends have rejoiced more heartily at his conquests, or mourned more pungently over his defeats than a certain description of the republicans of America. Nay more, America has voluntarily put herself in the dust that he might be exalted.

..... America had a revenue of 16 or 17 millions, fed by a vast commerce, which, though greatly embarrassed, was yet more lucrative than it could have been in a time of general peace in Europe. This commerce she destroyed with her own hands; and by it ruined her merchants and beggared her treasury. And why? It was the will of BONAPARTE. He spake and it was done.

..... It is no wonder that BONAPARTE loves America; who, for his sake, endures woes heaped on woes. Witness her unexampled perseverance in his cause. What a spectacle? while the enslaved nations of Europe are struggling to break the chains of the fell despot, republican America is doing what in her lies to paralize their efforts, and to rivet those chains. Who hath heard such a thing? A free republic volunteering its utmost efforts to uphold the despotism of a blood-stained, ferocious, and all-grasping tyrant, and to cripple the nations which are struggling for their liberties and independence. Posterity will read this portion of the American annals equally with astonishment and indignation."

(It is interesting to note that the annual income of the United States was about 16 or 17 millions of dollars in 1810-15. Its expenditure in 1921 is as much in one day as its whole revenue for a year a little over a century ago. In other words it is raising and disbursing 365 times as much annually now as then. The population in 1810 was about 7 million. That is, the population has increased fourteen-fold while the revenue has multiplied, as stated, many times that figure.

139-tf. William S. Snow.

"Then You'll Remember Me"

"When other lips and other hearts"—you know the rest and are probably now humming that well-known aria from "The Bohemian Girl." You have heard this song and those other favorites so often on the phonograph that you must long to hear them sung by artists in real voice.

Your opportunity is coming! The Chautauqua program, to be given here soon, includes a complete rendition of Balfe's perennial favorite. An experienced cast, organized by the Milton Aborn Studios, of New York City, and personally coached by Mr. Aborn, will present the opera with full cast, chorus and orchestra.

Music lovers of this town are fortunate in this exceptional opportunity to renew their acquaintance with their favorite songs.

Columbian Players To Present "All Aboard" Next Week

In a hall that promises to be twenty degrees cooler than the street, the Columbian Players will on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week present at the Lyceum Hall their latest musical comedy production entitled, "All Aboard."

The new musical comedy of the Columbian Players promises to even excel the "Columbian Revue of 1921" which was played to packed houses last winter and which was adjudged one of the cleverest amateur productions ever staged in this city.

A half dozen new and originally designed sceneries will be effectively portrayed by the aid of the recently installed lighting system at the Lyceum. The sceneries are the work of an eminent scenic artist connected with one of Washington's fast class tehaters.

The comedy is being produced under the direction of Norris N. Roland.

Wednesday and Thursday of next week are the dates, and the people of Alexandria are cordially invited to spend one of these evenings with the Alexandria entertainers, being assured that there will "not be a dull moment throughout the entire program.

Furnish Pure Water

Alexandria Water Company Looks After Health of Its Consumers

Attention is directed to the advertisement to be found elsewhere in the Gazette of the Alexandria Water Company. This company, according to their announcement, furnishes pure water which is not only filtered but also sterilized. In addition this water daily goes through a bacteriological examination made by a chemist who is regularly employed by this company. It is announced by the company that the results are open to public inspection. This filtered water is announced to be absolutely safe from typhoid fever and other water borne diseases. Alexandria may well feel proud of the efforts of the Alexandria Water Company to give its consumers a water absolutely free from all dangerous germs as the water in many other cities is absolutely not fit to drink.

This company has neither spared trouble or expense in order to supply its consumers the best water that it is possible to obtain.

"Get out of the way!" he answered. "That dam's bursting and I'm going to stop it!"

And on he plunged with his crew in their lurching motor trucks — roaring through the storm—digging their way through the mountains — rushing life to a thousand women and children.

But the dam had broken!

And then this "worthless" racing driver did something that brought the girl who had scorned him sobbing to his arms!

DISARMAMENT PLAN GIVEN BY HARDING

When President Harding was at the Senate last week, he told Senator Borah he wanted to discuss the question of procedure on this measure with him at an early date.

Unwilling to narrow the negotiations to the extent proposed in the Borah amendment, the President, on the eve of his receipt of the measure, has transmitted his proposal to France and Italy as well as England and Japan, and has not limited the scope of the conference to the reduction of naval armament. Under the terms of his proposal the reduction of military as well as naval armament would be subject to consideration.

This broadening of the proposition was rejected by Congress during consideration of the Borah Amendment. It was contended that France and Italy whose armament is primarily military, would never consent to a reduction of the size of their armies and that their inclusion in the conference would only result in failure to reach an agreement. Mr. Mondell, the majority leader of the House, proposed to amend the Borah Amendment in the terms of the President's proposal but he was overwhelmed with the opposition and the Borah Amendment was accepted as it was passed by the Senate.

Senator Borah did not conceal his amazement tonight when appraised of the action of the President in forestalling Congress with a broader proposal, which he deems certain to defeat the naval holiday movement, but he declined to be quoted until he could give further consideration to the situation.

France is expected to take the position that so long as she is at the mercy of Germany she cannot reduce her army, which now totals 800,000 men, unless she is guaranteed from the danger of aggression by the pledges of England and the United States to defend her, as provided in the tripartite alliance. The treaty providing that alliance has "not" ratified by England but not by the United States, and is not to bind England unless we should ratify. The administration has shown no disposition to urge ratification of this treaty, which is pigeonholed in the Senate.

The Administration regards Mr. Borah's fears unfounded. There is no reason, it is contended, why the conference should not limit the question of armies as found embarrassing.

Lucky? Why, man, I'm the Human Horseshoe!

I CERTAINLY was born.
UNDER A lucky star.
FOR INSTANCE the time,
I HOCKED my bonds.
TO PLAY the market.
ON A sure thing tip.
AND BOUGHT Slippery Ellum.
AT SEVENTY-TWO.
FOR A healthy rise.
AND FOR seven days.
I HUGGED the ticker.
AND COULDN'T sleep.
ONCE IT jumped two points.
AND I walked on air.
AND THAT very day.
I SAW a sign.
IN A cigar stand.
THAT SAID "Satisfy."
IT GAVE me a hunch.
TO BE satisfied.
WITH WHAT I'd got.
AND NOT hog the deal.
SO I phoned my broker.
TO SELL me out.
AND THE very next day.
SLIPPERY ELLUM slipped.
TO FIFTY-FIVE.
SO NOW I've gotten.
BACK MY bonds.
AND BABY'S got new shoes
AND NOW my regular smokes
ARE THE cigarettes.
THAT "SATISFY."

WHENEVER you get that "Satisfy" hunch, play it. Steer straight for the nearest stand and invest in Chesterfields. This combination of fine Turkish tobaccos, blended with Burley and other Domestic leaf, will give you a new measure of cigarette enjoyment. You're in luck from that day on.

HIGHWAY BONDS ISSUED BY TWENTY-ONE STATES

Richmond, Va., July 11.—Twenty five states of the Union have authorized the issuance of State bonds for road construction to suplement other funds for the construction of State highways now, according to the Highways Green Book for 1921 published by the American Automobile Association, which is just off the press. This book is conceded by road authorities to be the most complete record of all phases of the road question which has ever been attempted. It contains a synopsis of the road laws, expenditures and progress of road work in each of the forty-eight states as well as Alaska, the District of Columbia Hawaii, the Philippine Islands and Canada.

The list of states which have voted State bonds for highway construction are California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Missouri, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oregon Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah, West Virginia, Wyoming and Washington.

The total amount made available from State and county bond issues for road construction throughout the United States during 1919, 1920 and 1921, as far as the American Automobile Association could ascertain, was in excess of $900,000,000. It is believed that if all of the issues could have been tabulated the amount would have been in excess of $1,000,000,000. This is in addition to the funds which are derived for road construction by direct taxation, the returns from the motor vehicle tax and Federal aid.

While Virginia ranks far down the line in the list of States in amount of funds which have been available for road construction during 1919, 1920 and 1921, a creditable showing is made for the State in mileage of roads constructed and contracts under way for the amount of funds which the States has had to expend.

In the vast array of data which has been compiled by the American Automobile Association in the "1921 Green Book" is included tables showing how the road funds of the forty eight States have been distributed as to construction, maintenance, engineering and administration expense. Of five States selected at random as having expended for road construction approximately the same amount for the year 1919, Virginia was fourth in the amount of money expended for engineering and administration expense, being from 35 to 50 per cent lower in amount of expenditures for these two items than the States above her.

Proved To Be A Friend In Need

Mrs. Smith Is Well and Happy All The Time Since Taking Tanlac —Gains Ten Pounds

"Almost every time I meet friends who haven't seen me for several months they ask me what I have been taking to make me look so much better," said Mrs. Morgan Smith, of 728 33rd street, Newport News, Va.

"During the past four years I suffered very much from indigestion. My appetite was almost gone and the gas from my undigested food crowded around my heart and almost cut off my breath. I was so nervous that I never knew what it was to get a good night's sleep and would wake up in the morning all tired out and with a feeling of dizziness. At times the right side of my face was so swollen with neuralgia and my head ached like it would burst.

"I had rheumatism so bad I could hardly hobble about or raise my hand above my head. I fell off in weight and got so weak I couldn't do my housework.

"Tanlac has certainly proved a friend in need for my appetite is so keen now that I just feel like eating up everything in sight. And what I eat agrees with me, for I never have a sign of indigestion and have gained ten pounds in weight.

"My rheumatism, headaches and neuralgia are all gone my nerves have quit troubling me and I sleep soundly every night. I just feel well and happy all the time am so much stronger that I do all my housework without any trouble."

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfield, jr.

SPORTS

The Dreadnaughts won a easy game from the Registers Treasury team yesterday by the score of 13 to 4. Registers started off with a rush scoring four runs in the first couple of innings, but the D's came right back at them and scored almost at will from the fourth inning on. Buck Clatterbuck, their much herald ed pitcher, had a bad day as his hooks looked as big as a balloon when they came over and the D's did not have much trouble in hitting h'm. Frye was the master of them all the way with perfect control and they only connected with his shoots for four hits.

The team looks better every day and the right infield combination has been found at last with an outfield that has no peer in this section.

Next Sunday the Dreadnaughts play the Maccabees of the Fraternal League at 3 o'clock on Baggett's field

The game scheduled for Saturday, July 2nd, on North Alfred street diamond between the Alexandria Torpedo Station and the Hartford A. C. of Washington, was forfeited by the H. A. Wheeler, Stephens and Walker, Buvid The feature hitting of game for the A. T. S., was done by Mioun and Johnson, both landing a three bagger for M. W. N. VETERANS OF WORLD WAR PAY HOMAGE TO HEROES WHO DIED

New York, July 11.—Surrounded by scores of flag-draped coffins, General John J. Pershing and United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge voiced the deep eternal gratitude of the American people today to those who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War.

Speaking to an audience composed of war mothers, veterans and their kin, above which floated the standards of a score or more of American Legion Posts and of the veterans of Foreign Wars, both men extended an appeal for the continuation of the struggle for the highest in American ideals.

Senator Lodge said:

"The American people owe it to their dead soldiers to keep this country on the upward path."

General Pershing, as he went forward and decorated the coffins of the first three American soldiers to die in the war, said:

"It was given to them to point the way to millions of their fellow-men. Theirs was an exalted standard."

The occasion of these ceremonies which were held on Pier 4, in Hoboken was the presence at the point of departure and return of most of our fighting forces of 7264 bodies which have been brought back from their overseas resting places within the past two weeks by the transports "Wheaton" and "Somme."

The ceremonies had been arranged by a joint committee representing the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and a crowd estimated at more than 2000 filled the section of the pier in which they were held, while at least an equal number of people swarmed about on the outside or thronged up and down between the rows of pine boxes which extended throughout all of the governments half space on the Hoboken waterfront.

How sixty-four Diamonds behaved for a well-known Virginia Utility Company

"We have used the Diamond Tires and, after a thorough test, we believe that this tire is the best for our service. Our trucks cover more territory than any other trucks on the peninsula, For your information, I might advise that these trucks, sixteen in number, take care of the territory from Fox Hill to Camp Morrison. They are operated in all kinds and conditions of weather and, all in all, I believe the Diamond tire is the best for our service."
